From the President

Dear Cape Girardeau County Genealogical Society Members,

Spring is (almost!) in the air, and thoughts go back to all those “outdoor” genealogy tasks. Now is a good time to check out that old cemetery that may need a detailed search and cleaning up, before the poison ivy and critters start to get active. I’ll remind everyone that the County Archive staff has been checking (and finding or re-finding) quite a number of out local cemeteries. Soon, I’ll be heading up to Oak Ridge to do the spring cleanup of the Fulbright Cemetery, where I have three generations of my Fulbright family buried.

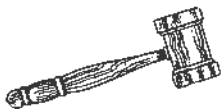

I hope everyone is getting a chance to watch “Who Do You Think You Are” on NBC. A lot of interesting ancestral stories have come out of the research done by (or, should I say, by and for) the featured celebrities. If you’ve missed one or more of the episodes, they may be viewed online, at least for awhile. Personally, I hope they eventually branch out and do some ancestral searching for a regular person (not someone famous). Sometimes, we find that our family is not so ordinary after all once we find out more about them. Keep in mind also that one generation’s “ordinary” is another generation’s “extraordinary.”

Since last fall, the library volunteers have been working hard on both updating and accessioning to our holdings (from several collections that were donated), but also, on selling duplicate holdings, extra publications, and just getting rid of some of the things we had that just were not all that valuable. Next time you are in the library (and we hope all of you get to visit), thank a library volunteer if they are in the Archive Center!

Thanks to Celeste Stanton for contributing the article on her great-great grand aunt Emma Camster Green; the Arnsberg Cemetery Association for sharing the exciting find of part of the records of the old St. Johns Evangelical Lutheran Church at Arnsberg, and Terrill Weaver and Ruth Kasten for the Fairmount Cemetery Paupers’ burials we have been publishing over the last year. As always, your contribution will be “right up front” in the next issue if you choose to share it with us.

Finally, I want to express my deepest thanks to our long-time Recording Secretary, Sandra Fluegge, who has had to give up the job because of health reasons. Sandra always cheerfully performed the duties of this job, and was faithful about getting the minutes to the meetings when she was unable to attend. We wish her the best and our prayers.

Sincerely,

Emma Camster Green, Daughter of Cecelia (Celie) Wilson, ex-slave

Emma is the only living daughter of Grandma Celie (Sely) Wilson, who both lived out their entire lives in and around Scott and Cape Girardeau Counties in Southeastern Missouri. Emma, as her mother, was born a slave, but unlike her mother, Emma knows the name of her father – another slave by the name of Jack McGuire. Emma is one of those persons in history whose life would remain obscure if it were not for a single event. Between the years of 1936-1938, the United States government employed persons in the Federal Writer's Project to interview former slaves and capture their stories before they all died. These are simply known as "The Slave Narratives." It is often through the eyes of these survivors that we struggle to envision the degradation and horrors inflicted on them in that insane institution. Yet, they and as many as possible of their offspring, who were not worked to death or summarily murdered, fought against crippling odds to survive. Through these narratives, not just hearsay, we hear from their own mouths what it was like to live as a slave. We see the anger and disgust at cruel masters and mistresses. We hear gratitude for the attention and care given them by more benevolent masters. We see the slaves as feeling, thinking, grieving, often cunning, but caring human beings – with the same needs as all other people, not just dehumanized bodies devoid of souls, as they were often categorized by elements of American society at the time.

Emma is one of only a few former slaves interviewed from the Cape Girardeau area and she recounts her life, and that of her mother, with clarity and candor. Importantly, she gives us, her family, a chronology of their lives, being owned by up to three different slave-holders. Born June 15, 1856, her mother had already been owned by two different slave-owners. Emma would have been one of the babies born on the land owned by a member of the Camster family. After George Camster died, his widow Patsy English Camster married Woodson Parrot and took Emma and her mother with her to Scott County. Later Emma moved with her young mistress, Janie Camster Bradley, to what she infers as a rather disappointing existence for her mistress in Charleston, Mississippi County, Missouri for whom she worked until after the end of the Civil War. In Emma's testimony she states that "Mista Bradley warn't smart an' he didn't have nuthin but she stayed with him an' done de bes' she could."

On the US Federal Census, taken June 11, 1880 for Cape Girardeau, Emma is age 28, listed as mulatto, is apparently married to Monroe McKee, a drey driver, and her mother Cecelia Wilson is with her in the home. A boy of 8, Charles Hamilton, is listed as a nephew to the head of the household, Mr. McKee.

On the 1900 US Federal Census, Emma no longer carries the name of McKee and is now listed as Emma Telford, head of household and she is a widow, has borne two children but both have died. Her mother is still living with her, and there is a boarder by the name of Edward Greer, a widower, now residing with the family.

In 1910, Emma Telford is listed again as widowed, head of household and age 52. Her mother, Celie Wilson is shown as age 90 and there are three other persons at home listed as boarders - Robert King, Jesse Smith and George Giboney. The data shows that she owns the home in which they live at 242 N. Frederick Street.

I have been unable at this writing to find a marriage record between Emma and either Mr. McKee or Mr. Telford. At the time of Grandma Cecelia's death, her newspaper obituary listed Emma with the last name of Rodman. It would not be unusual for a couple to take up residency together, with the woman taking the last name of the man, and live in a common-law relationship without benefit of a formal marriage ceremony. At the time Emma was interviewed, however, she was legally married to Al Green. Their marriage license #8904 issued in Cape Girardeau on April 30, 1913 was filed and recorded on May 6th of the same year. So she was listed as Emily Camster Green, Camster, being the name of her mother's former owner up until at least, and probably after, 1845.

Apparently Emma's health failed particularly in the last few years prior to her death on December 15, 1937. Her death certificate from Cape Girardeau lists her as age 81, an invalid, and under treatment by a physician from January 1935 until her death. Cause of death is carcinoma of uterus. On December 17th she was buried, as with many of our family members, at Fairmont cemetery. It is curious that the informant on her death certificate, Eliza Goins did not provide information on Emma's parents or where she was born. Eliza Goins is Emma's niece - the daughter of John and Amanda Brown. John Brown is Emma's brother and they all lived within blocks of one another.

Because she had no heirs, if it were not for this one single event, that of being interviewed for the Slave Narratives, Emma Camster McKee Telford Rodman Green, would dissolve into obscurity like tens-of-millions of other Americans. Instead, Emma, my great-great-grand aunt has become an important part of written American history. We speak her name, we honor her existence.

QUERIES ??? QUERIES ??? QUERIES ??? QUERIES ???

QUERIES are FREE to members of the Cape Girardeau County Genealogical Society, and should be sent to: Bill Eddleman, 1831 Ricardo Drive, Cape Girardeau, MO 63701. (email: eddlemanw@sbcglobal.net). Please include mailing address if submitting by email.

DOERING, PENZEL

I am trying to locate the final resting place(s) of my great-great grandparents, John "Samuel" & Augusta (PENZEL) DOERING. It is my belief that (John) Samuel DOERING was b. Saxony, Germany on or abt. 6 Dec 1829 and d. prior to 1910. Augusta was b. 12 Oct 1840 in Germany, d. 11 Dec 1918, and was bur. in "Jackson" according to her death certificate. Cemetery records and death certificates confirm that son Theodore DOERING and wife Minnie are bur. Memorial Park, but this cemetery did not open until 1930. One of their six daughters is bur. New Lorimier Cemetery, but there is no record of Samuel & Augusta. Contact: K. C. Bolton-Potter, 12308 Trackside Drive, Bakersfield, CA 93312-5678. Phone 661-588-8804 (h), 661-588-1550 (w).

DICKERHOFF

Leonhardt Louis DICKERHOFF arr. in the U. S. 1855. His children were christened in Trinity Lutheran Church in Cape Girardeau from 1856 through 1870. He served in the Civil War and moved to St. Louis, Missouri 1870-1880. Any additional information on the family or suggestions for further research would be much appreciated. Contact: Patricia Gardner, 52 Miami Drive, Noblesville, IN 46062. E-mail: Rhgardner72@peoplepc.com
